

WAUSEON BOOSTERS

Boosters Club Organized at Montauk Club Rooms Monday Evening—Fifty Members Enrolled—Chautauqua Matters Considered and Officers Elected—Band—Garden Contest, and New Manufacturing Discussed.

About fifty of the representative men of the village gathered in the Montauk Club rooms last Monday evening and before they left at about 10 o'clock they had organized a five boosters club and discussed a number of matters of general interest to the community. The means was called to order by Mayor Roy Hoy who stated that there were many things that needed to be done for the general welfare and progress of the town and that in order to get them done it seemed necessary to have a good live organization and that the meeting had been called for the purpose of either reviving the old organization, the Wauseon Commercial Club or effecting a new organization. Mr. Hoy announced the name of Fred H. Wolf for chairman of the meeting and that in order to get them done it seemed necessary to have a good live organization and that the meeting had been called for the purpose of either reviving the old organization, the Wauseon Commercial Club or effecting a new organization.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

A most unfortunate accident occurred on North Fulton street last Monday afternoon when Bachman brothers team ran away, causing the death of one of the horses and badly demolishing the wagon.

When Robert Bachman who lives four miles north of Tredrow, was driving north on Fulton street where the team, for some unknown cause became frightened and dashed madly up the street. The lines broke, thus giving the driver no control whatever; both men jumped from the rear of the wagon, escaping with very slight bruises. At the county ditch where the street is torn up for improvement the team veered to the east running into a tree, one of the horses was killed and the wagon smashed into kindling wood. They proceeded north to where a rope had been stretched across the street; one of the horses going around and the other running into the rope, turned a complete somersault, injuring its neck so badly that it had to be killed.

ROLL OF HONOR

Special Meeting of Monumental Association to be Held in Court House May Seventh—Collection of Subscription in the Month of May, Another Club Added to the Roll.

The trustees of the Association have been busy with a number of things during the past week among others the necessity of filling the board of Trustees to its full number and in order to do this it has, through the secretary, called a special meeting of the Association for Thursday May 7th at 2 p. m. at the court house, for the purpose of electing one trustee. The trustees have also been considering the necessity of issuing certificates which will soon be issued and the month of May has been designated as the month for collecting in the subscription. Every one who has subscribed to the Fund should arrange to pay in during the present month. Not much doing in the way of new subscriptions this week through the association was made. The Trustees Club of York township who have subscribed and paid $2.75 to the Fund. There is need of more, we are still on the wrong side of the $2000 mark and the minimum set is $3000.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hayes $2.00
Tourists Club $2.75
Louis Gasche $1.00

PREMONT VS. WAUSEON.

Don't forget the debate to-night between teams from the Fremont high school and Wauseon high school. The question is in regard to the adoption of the constitution form of government by our cities. The local team, which is composed of Marjorie Whiteman, Carl Geringer and Loren Steinbrecher, will support the affirmative. The opposing team will put up a stiff fight and there will be something interesting for the lovers of the forensic art. Come out and give the local team the encouragement of your presence. It will be well worth your while. Nominal prices for admission, 15 and 25 cents.

You can prevent and cure Bright's disease and diabetes with San Jak, by having it always on hand for occasional doses. Get it at Fink & Haumessers. 1-52

Only a small audience were present to hear H. C. Creel the Socialist speaker at the court house last Friday evening.

Mr. Starck who is at work in Wauseon endeavoring to inaugurate a home trade campaign was next introduced and presented his work which appeals directly to the merchants and business men and ought to appeal to all citizens who are really interested in the prosperity and progress of the town. The indications are that this new club will be a live one and that it will accomplish much for the common good of Wauseon, it certainly will do this if every body will do what they can to help.

MRS. JACOB FEITZER.
Mrs. Emaline Feitzer died at her home on Shop Ave. last Friday afternoon. She was born in Shadlersville, O., March 9th, 1843 and died April 24, 1914 at the age of 71 years 1 month and 15 days.
She is survived by her husband, one son, Harvey, and one daughter, Laura, also four grandchildren.
Of brothers and sister left there are Alice Demaline, Stanley Newell and Leverett Hoskins.
Part of her early life was spent in Lorain county and part in Henry county. In the latter she taught school.
She was married Oct. 12, 1870, and after 44 years of married life was called away from the busy cares of this life. She was a devoted mother and a good Christian.
Funeral services were held in the Christian church, of which she was a member, Monday at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. A. Wharton, the pastor officiated. Burial was made in the Wauseon cemetery.

FOR HOSPITAL BENEFIT.
Next Monday evening there will be a show given at the Princess Theatre for the benefit of the hospital. The hospital is badly in need of numerous things and it is sincerely hoped that the public will patronize this performance thereby aiding a most worthy cause.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATORS

Wauseon Teams Debate the Question of Exemption of U. S. Vessels Engaging in Coastwise Traffic from Panama Canal Tolls. With Sandusky Teams—Wauseon Wins at Wauseon.

It was not a large audience that attended the debate last Friday night between debaters of the Wauseon and Sandusky high schools; not half as large as it ought to have been, but those who were present enjoyed a rare treat. Some one said that it was worth the price of admission just to hear the high school songs and yells which were given with an enthusiasm that made the blood run faster in the veins of the older people present.

The Sandusky team was composed of three young ladies, Helen Sloate, Marion Parsons and Leslie Gaylord and did splendid work in advocating the negative side of the question, Miss Parsons the first speaker on the Sandusky team did especially well in presenting the negative side of the question her presence, delivery and argument were exceptionally fine; the whole team were good in their presentation of their side of the question but seemed weak when they were asked to defend their position.

The Wauseon team composed of James Bard, Howard McClaren and Bryan Heise made every Wauseonian swell with pride and while they covered themselves with honors reflected credit upon Mr. Holman who has done the greater part of the work of training and coaching the high school debating teams this year. James Bard surprised his best friends and when it came to rebuttal he was a whirlwind. Howard McClaren the second speaker for the Wauseon team presented his arguments in a clear forceful manner and was good in his argument and coaching the high school debating teams this year. Charles Q. Hildebrand of Wilmington was the next speaker. Mr. Hildebrand is a popular candidate for secretary of State through he failed to say anything about it; he referred to the last Ohio Legislature as "King James' Infant class and called attention to the fact that Mr. Cox was trying to do for Ohio what Murphy did for New York, in other words, he was trying to "Murphyize" Ohio.

Hon. Ralph Cole who was to be next speaker having failed to arrive, his brother, Clinton Cole of Findlay took his place and had just got nicely launched in a stirring address when Ralph Cole, who had been delayed by a railroad wreck at Galata, arrived. Clinton Cole had time however to demonstrate the fact that the greatness of this country was due to the policies and practices of the Republican party. Ralph Cole's address was one of the finest ever delivered in Wauseon; what had been said by previous speakers formed a fitting background for his opening remarks which were along the line of party reunion. The speakers who preceded him had hoped that he would be the next speaker and need for a united party. Mr. Cole made the statement that the Republican party was not founded upon personalities that come and go with the coming and going of individuals, but upon the great principles that are handed down from generation to generation. He spoke of the causes of dissension in the party and resulted in the cleavage in the party and showed that those causes had been removed. The possibility of the arbitrary use of power on the part of the National Convention of 1916 will be under the control of the delegates who compose the convention. At this point in his address Mr. Cole asked for an extra handkerchief and as Mr. Willis handed him one, Mr. Cole remarked that the handkerchief was not the first thing that Professor Willis had handed him; he referred to the causes of dissension in the party and showed that those causes had been removed. The possibility of the arbitrary use of power on the part of the National Convention of 1916 will be under the control of the delegates who compose the convention.

There was no joke indicated for the Democrats of Ohio in the meeting of the Republicans of the Fifth Congressional District here in Wauseon last Tuesday, but there were unmistakable evidences that the Republicans of this District at least, will present a solid and united front in the campaign of 1914 that our Democratic friends will find hard to break in upon.

Representatives from the various counties of this district began to arrive early in the forenoon and continued to come until afternoon. The Archbold band occupied the band stand until noon and the strains of music enlivened the gathering and the Republicans of the district. 340 guests were served with dinner by the ladies of the Christian church in the church dining room and had it not been for recent rains making roads difficult for automobiles there would have been more than twice that number, as many from the various counties had planned to make the trip in autos.

Promptly at one o'clock the meeting was opened in the Auditorium, which was well filled, by Hon. A. L. Gebhardt of Bryan, chairman of the committee on arrangements; Mr. Gebhardt introduced Hon. W. W. Campbell of Napoleon who acted as chairman of the meeting. Mr. Campbell after a few well chosen words introduced Hon. A. A. Steinbaugh of Bowling Green who is a candidate for Treasurer of State; neither Mr. Steinbaugh nor any other of the speakers took occasion to boost his own candidacy they all seemed to remember that it was a "Get-together Meeting" and not even an Agricultural Boosters Meeting. Mr. Steinbaugh spoke very briefly and to the point, referring to a statement by Governor Cox to the effect that he would have no one to run against him in the coming campaign. Mr. Steinbaugh predicted that F. B. Willis was unlikely to give Mr. Cox a hot chase. He said that whole question before the people of the State at this time is as to whether one man shall rule or are the people to have some say in the government of the State.

REPUBLICANS RALLY

Fifth Ohio Congressional District Republicans Get-together in Wauseon Tuesday—Meeting an Enthusiastic One And Well Attended—Addresses That Rang With Loyalty and Patriotism

COX VS. JEFFERSON

Address of Hon. F. B. Willis at Republican Rally at Wauseon, April 28th, Dangers of Centralization of Power—Inconsistency of Platform and Practice American Rights and Machine Building—Jefferson's Principles and Cox's Policies.

The campaign in Ohio this fall involves the most fundamental principles of our Government. It is not a mere question as to the efficacy of this statute or that statute but the real issue far beyond that. The people of the state are to decide whether they will rule themselves or be ruled by one man. Local self government and home rule are at stake. These issues must not be confused by the injection of mere minor matters. From the days of Runnymede and King John down through the struggle over the Bill of Rights and the disputes which finally terminated in the American Revolution of '76 the right of local self government and control of the people over the question of taxation and their right to select their own taxing officials have been fondly cherished and valiantly defended. These rights have been bought and centuries old will not be given up to suit the caprice of political bosses and machine builders. When the people lose control over taxation and have their officers appointed for them by one who claims an appoint better than the people in their sovereign capacity can elect they have started on the path of retrogression and the end will be such centralization of power in the executive and such extension of autocratic rule as to make free government a delusion and liberty only a name. So far as known every state in the union elects its tax assessors. Formerly Arizona and Louisiana had tax systems whereby assessors were appointed by the governor but wearing of this autocratic arrangement these states now provide that assessors shall be elected. In some states assessors are made ineligible for re-election. It is quite possible to secure efficiency without destroying the democratic sentiment of the American people in favor of democratic institutions and the right of local self government. Even in Wisconsin where the assessors have been so thoroughly studied and whose laws in some respects have been copied by other states the local assessors are not under the control of a central authority. It is quite interesting to note that the National Tax association meeting in Columbus in 1907 while recommending the central supervision of assessments, was strongly of the opinion that local assessors should be elected. In fact the people of Wisconsin have been so thoroughly studied and whose laws in some respects have been copied by other states the local assessors are not under the control of a central authority. Health a Factor in Success.
The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are sold by all dealers.

SPECIAL MEETING.
There will be a special meeting of the Fulton County Soldiers and Sailors Monumental and Memorial Association on Thursday May 7th at 2 p. m. in the Assembly room of the court house in Wauseon, for the purpose of electing one trustee. A full attendance is requested.
